Edited creativity: textiles that shape spaces.

In 2026, Pepe Peñalver introduces a new generation of collections designed to meet the real needs of contemporary interiors. Textile solutions that combine design, functionality and performance, with a clear focus on interior architecture.

From the technical lightness of sheers to the structural strength of upholstery fabrics, each textile has been created with intention, designed to dress surfaces naturally, adapt to the rhythm of each project and bring character without excess.

Groove, Mauna, Cosmos and Rift, four ways of understanding space through colour, material and proportion. Collections that explore versatility, scale and calm from different perspectives, offering resilient and visually balanced proposals.

A new stage where creativity has purpose, and textiles do more than decorate: they articulate, define and connect.

BEAT

Beat is a geometric cotton jacquard with bouclé yarn that introduces texture and rhythm through its relief. Its design beats with strength, creating a visual interplay that adds structure and personality to any upholstered piece.

With 30,000 Martindale cycles and a composition rich in natural fibres, it combines comfort, durability and a contemporary aesthetic defined by the contrast between geometry and texture.

A fabric that sets the tempo of interior design, transforming each project into a statement where design is both felt and lived.

BUZZ

Buzz is a stain-resistant chenille with a geometric jacquard that captures the electric pulse of the city. Its surface, soft yet full of character, transforms urban rhythm into texture, turning every upholstered piece into a visual focal point.

With 40,000 Martindale cycles, Buzz is designed for projects that demand durability without compromising on design. Its resilience and easy maintenance stand out, while its geometric pattern introduces dynamism and modernity.

A fabric that conveys movement, intensity and a constant vibration.

FADE

Fade is a large-scale watercolour jacquard where colour blends softly, creating subtle and enveloping transitions. Like a note fading into the air, its design brings depth and an artistic dimension to the setting.

With 25,000 Martindale cycles and a composition combining cotton, viscose and wool, it offers a warm, nuanced touch, ideal for adding sensitivity and expression to residential projects.

A fabric that speaks of gradation, of atmospheres that gently merge, and of interiors where design becomes emotion.

SWING

Swing is a stain-resistant frayed jacquard that evokes the balanced cadence of jazz. Its rich and expressive texture plays with light and shadow, creating a sense of continuous movement, like a melody flowing effortlessly.

Made from 100% cotton and with 70,000 Martindale cycles, it combines natural appeal with high performance in a proposal especially resistant for upholstery. The frayed detail adds a subtle artisanal nuance, balancing sophistication and freshness.

A fabric that introduces rhythm and harmony into the interior, with relaxed contemporary elegance.

VINYL

Vinyl is a jacquard that creates a faux-plain rich in subtlety. Restrained at first glance; revealing texture and depth upon closer look. Its stain-resistant finish and 30,000 Martindale cycles make it a versatile choice for frequently used upholstery.

Its balanced composition of polyester, cotton and linen combines durability and natural appeal, resulting in a fabric with serene presence and distinctive identity.

Like vinyl records, Vinyl returns to what is essential: character-driven design, enduring elegance and an aesthetic that transcends trends.
